Village looks to drive parking revenue

By Ken Knutson

kknutson@thehinsdalean.com

In response to significantly lower demand for Metra commuter parking as a result of the pandemic, Hinsdale officials are considering changes to regulations to attract lot users and boost revenue.

At Tuesday's village board meeting, Village President Tom Cauley unveiled several staff recommendations prompted by his request for an assessment of village lot use at the Aug. 18 meeting. Village staff reported that commuter permit sales are just 25 percent of the level a couple of years ago and proposed allowing non-Hinsdale residents to buy parking permits for the main commuter lot north of the tracks between Washington and Lincoln streets, which has historically been reserved for village residents.

"It used to be that we had a 100-person excess on the waiting list pre-pandemic," Cauley said of the rational of opening the lot up to nonresidents. "Now we've not only lost the excess on the list, we've lost three-quarters of the people that were parking there."

With the work-from-home trend reducing the frequency of commutes, staff suggested offering a $3.50 daily parking fee option for those not wanting to buy a permit. This daily fee would be available in all red/blue parking areas and would be payable by a parking app.

Village lots also will have standardized permit hours of 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. The main lot currently allows anyone to park there after 9:15 a.m., which staff believes has led to more use by downtown merchants and employees in lieu of purchasing red merchant permits.

Assistant village manager Brad Bloom suggested curtailing that practice by requiring permits was a more fiscally responsible approach.

"We've kind of cannibalized our red permit areas because (merchants and employees) are parking for free in the village lot when they couldn't before because of commuters filling the lot," he said. "It's just a better use of that commodity."

The one-lane parking lot between the tracks and Burlington Park has designated merchant parking spaces but would be converted to commuter spaces and carry a higher daily fee than other lots.

"We think we can get premium cost for (that lot) because it is a very desirable location," Cauley said. "I don't know what we could charge for that, but we're going to figure out some way to maximize the value of that. We just keep raising (the rate) until people don't want to rent them anymore."

In addition to the downtown parking areas, staff also recommended that 56 of the 82 spaces in the Robbins Park parking lot along Eighth Street be made available to Hinsdale Central students from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. on school days for $400 a semester or $800 a year. The remainder of the spaces would have a four-hour limit to deter non-permitted students from parking there, preserving the spaces for users of the park and The Community House.

Commuters and merchants would still be able to purchase sixmonth permits for their designated lots, but they would now be able to apply online under the recommendations.

"Which brings us into the 21st century," Cauley quipped. Trustees are expected to discuss the regulations again at their Tuesday, Sept. 20, meeting.

ONCE UPON A TIME

Park and recreation — This photo in Sandy Williams' book, "Images of America -Hinsdale," is of Burlington Park. "Hinsdale's first public landscaping endeavor took place at Burlington Park. After the railroad granted use of the site in 1877, fencing and evergreens were installed, When the new depot was built in 1899, the village acquired the remainder of the block, setting the stage for walkways and flower beds to showcase Hinsdale's "front yard." In this early photograph, Flagg Creek, covered in 1934, is still visible on the right.

Central shows off new spaces to students

Summer construction projects created impressive new areas for Red Devils to enjoy

By Pamela Lannom plannom@thehinsdalean.com

Summer construction projects delayed the start of school at Hinsdale Central, but the new spaces likely impressed students and staff when they returned to class Tuesday.

One of the most noticeable is a new entrance along Grant Street, where the old entrance known as the "pool door" used to be. The Grant Street Plaza, as Hinsdale Central Principal Bill Walsh likes to call it, offers a much more appropriate first impression to the many who use this entrance. The area features a trophy case to house the school's impressive collection of athletic hardware and a small art gallery.

"Now you walk in here, you get a rich history of the athletic season, you're showcasing fine arts, right here in the entrance," Walsh said. "That's what says this is a school that values a lot."

Athletic director Dan Jones said the new entrance will be a fitting introduction to the school for people attending evening athletic events. He said he hadn't thought much about how it would look ahead of time.

"Once myself and the student athletes started putting the trophies in, we were just like, 'Wow, this is going to be pretty impressive,' " he said. "It's a huge improvement from the loading dock and garbage dumpsters they used to walk by to come in at night."

Another impressive space is the cafeteria, which has been redesigned to better serve the 650 students who use it each period. Traditional tables with benches are augmented by four-person high tops, many of which will offer a window seat.

"It's a more modern way to engage with your peers and to engage in a cafeteria space," Walsh said.

Students no longer will need to wait in seven separate serving lines, as everything is enclosed in what Walsh describes as a hospital-style cafeteria, with a walk-in cooler for beverages.

Red ceramic tile and red chairs add a spark of Red Devil color to the room, which features mostly white walls and a gray tile floor. Too much red can create too high of an energy level, he noted.

"You have to bring in these other subtle colors to set the tone," he said. "You're building the school spirit in other accent ways throughout the building."

The renovated courtyard off the cafeteria is about a third smaller, but still offers students a place to relax from the academic pressures of the school day, Walsh said.

The new Grant Street entrance is a much more welcoming space than the old entrance through the "pool door." The outdoor tiered seating will offer a great place for students to hang out or even for small concerts, Principal Bill Walsh said.

"We lost our pond but we installed this beautiful new water feature," he said, noting the stone fountains. "Because it's enclosed, it's a safe space to be outside."

The courtyard is visible from the renovated library on the second floor, which has large windows that also overlook the new student commons and its "learning stairs." While still a place to house books, the library has been redesigned to be a better learning environment, with six small-breakout rooms where teachers can work with students. A new career and tech ed space in the school's lower level will offer space for graphics, digital video production, woodworking, automotive, robotics, computer assisted drafting and other classes.

Back on the main floor, the pool area has been converted into a new gymnastics gym and the old gymnastics gym will serve as a multipurpose space that can be used for study hall during the day or athletic practices after school. A new fine arts space is located just off the Grant Street entrance.

A theme in several areas is improved ADA accessibility.

"There are three new elevators on campus that now get students who couldn't get plac-students who couldn't get places to places, and that's really critical," Walsh said.

Supply chain issues have

Supply chain issues have plagued many construction projects, but Walsh credits Arcon Associates and Pepper Construction, who are managing the project, for planning ahead. The only items they are waiting for are several sets of doors.

"They sort of knew what they needed within the design features and ordered that stuff well in advance," Walsh said.

Central will be open to the public for tours from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 24, during Homecoming weekend. Visitors will see the new Don Watson Aquatic Center, student services center, student commons, tech ed, fine arts, library and other areas.

Many areas of the school, built in 1949, were in need of updating, Walsh said.

"We are excited — really, really excited," he said.

Central's impressive collection of trophies celebrating athletic teams' state championships is now highlighted in a new display case off the Grant Street entrance. "What a showcase," Walsh said.

The renovated Central cafeteria features new four-seat hightop tables interspersed among the traditional tables and benches along with new serving areas that will eliminate all the separate lines. (Jim Slonoff photos)

Village, Tollway agree on detention basin

By Ken Knutson

kknutson@thehinsdalean.com

The village is poised to approve an intergovernmental agreement with the Illinois Tollway to install an underground stormwater detention system along the 600 block of Harding Road as part of the Interstate 294 expansion project

At Tuesday's village board meeting, trustees held a first read of an agreement under which the Tollway will design and construct an underground detention vault on the site of five properties it acquired in the 600 block of Harding Road.

In presenting the plan, Trustee Neale Byrnes said the Tollway originally had a different concept in mind for its flood mitigation solution

"Their plan was to have an open-surface water detention area that would be surrounded by an eight-foot chain-link fence. Not exactly picturesque," Byrnes said. Village officials asked the Tollway to look into the cost difference between a surface system and an underground solution, according to Byrnes. Ultimately, the Tollway agreed to the less obtrusive approach.

"They'll basically put a crib under there that will handle all the water," Byrnes said, noting its natural fit in the area with parkland immediately to the south. "It will be covered with grass, and this will just be an extension of Woodland Park."

Village President Tom Cauley said

village officials engaged in protracted negotiations with the Tollway on the matter, giving special credit to assistant village manager Brad Bloom and attorney Bill Ryan, who was hired to represent the village on Tollway issues.

Cauley cited the installation of underground storage cribs in recent years near the Highland train station parking lot and near Kensington School at Madison Street and Ogden Avenue.

"We haven't had any flooding on Madison, and that used to flood every time we got heavy rains," he remarked.

The Tollway will bear the cost of installing the detention tank and land-scaping the site once completed. The village, which will permit the Tollway to remove 58 trees on the site if necessary as part of the project, will be responsible for maintaining the grounds. The Tollway is responsible for maintaining the underground storage, and the village is prohibited from placing any structure on the property. Cauley called the agreement a "victory" for the village, and especially residents of the Woodlands who live near the site.

"The expansion of the tollway's bad enough, but to add this insult to injury to this neighborhood was just too much," he said. "It seemed to us to be a very good deal. I think having a park will ameliorate some of the detraction that comes from widening the Tollway."

Trustees are expected to approve the agreement at their Tuesday, Sept. 20, meeting.

■ "As I live life, I have new experiences that I can use in my acting, things where I can say, 'This is what makes me feel happy, and I can relate to this for this character.' " — Julianna Wittrock

Show has right mix of acting for Central thespian

Preparing for the Hinsdale Central Drama's upcoming production of "Too Much Light Makes the Baby Go Blind" has been a departure for theater veteran Julianna Wittrock.

"It's 30 plays in 60 minutes, ranging (across) all different genres," the senior said.

They range from the whimsical, like the importance of hands, to the unsettling or philosophical.

"I do one about wanting to shake my child to death," Wittrock related. "And I get to talk about the lyrics to 'Crank That' by Soulja Boy.'

"Too Much Light Makes the Baby Go Blind" will be performed on Central's auditorium stage at 7 p.m. Friday, Sept. 9 and 5 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 10. (see Page 20 for details).

In addition to the unusually fast-paced format, Wittrock said the production is also fun — and challenging — because each night's audience gets to choose the play list order.

"I have to always be ready for my plays, my monologue because it could come next, I don't know. Every show is different," she said. "And since cast members are in different plays, you're not rehearsing with them every day. You can't work off them for cues, you have to memorize your lines."

Part of the drama club since freshman year, Wittrock has trouble believing that this year is her final run.

"It went by so quick," she said, recalling her first play as a freshman, "The Women of Lockerbie," set in the aftermath of the 1998 terrorist airplane bombing in the skies above the Scottish town.

"It was all about us wanting to wash the clothes of the victims of that terrorist attack. It was a really moving show," Wittrock said.

"As I live life, I have new experiences that I can use in my acting, things where I can say, 'This is what makes me feel happy, and I can relate to this for this character,' " she commented.

Wittrock said she caught the acting bug in middle school.

"It was really like an escape for me, being able to go to rehearsal after school every day, seeing the same people and doing what I like," she said. "I get to put on a different persona that I would in day to day life, which is really nice."

She found performing in "The Laramie Project" last year particularly "impactful" in its dealing with issues concerning the LGBTQ community. And she also had the opportunity to serve as assistant director for the freshman production of "The Jungle Book."

For Wittrock, the curtain on her acting career will not close at high school graduation.

"When I go to college, I'm thinking about minoring in theater, if I don't double major in theater," she said.

Until then, she's going to make the most of last tour as a Red Devil.

"I'm excited to go to football games because I didn't really get to go the last few years," she said. "And Toga Day. And prom."

EDITORIAL

The horror, hope of Sept. 11 continues to endure

Every year in this issue, we dedicate this space to remembering the events of Sept. 11, 2001, paying respects to those lost and the heroism of those who, in many cases, knew it would be their final act.

As the years pile up between then and now, the unspeakable series of deadly terrorist acts that upended our collective consciousness has become the province of annual commemorative events with limited participation. But as Americans, we cannot let our collective memory consign it to the pile of the past.

As President George W. Bush said at a remembrance event, "Time is passing. Yet, for the United States of America, there will be no forgetting September the 11th. We will remember every rescuer who died in honor. We will remember every family that lives in grief. We will remember the fire and ash, the last phone calls, the funerals of the children."

Amidst the polarization and demonization that characterizes much of our political discourse today, the solidarity on display in the aftermath of that episode gives hope that we can find common purpose in our democracy of diverse voices.

"September 11 is one of our worst days but it brought out the best in us. It unified us as a country and showed our charitable instincts and reminded us of what we stood for and stand for," remarked former U.S. Sen. Lamar Alexander.

In these pages we regularly highlight local residents acting on those instincts, partnering with area nonprofit organizations to bring relief and resources to those in need. That inclination toward building up others, according to President Barack Obama, is a powerful way to counter those bent on destruction.

"Even the smallest act of service, the simplest act of kindness, is a way to honor those we lost, a way to reclaim that spirit of unity that followed 9/11," Obama said.

In that effort, each year 9/11 Day organizes the September 11 National Day of Service and Remembrance as a permanent tribute to those killed and injured on 9/11 and to the many brave individuals who rose in service in response to the 9/11 terrorist attacks, rekindling the togetherness and compassion that arose at that time through hunger relief volunteer service projects and other outreach efforts throughout the United States. Donate at https://www.911day.org.

So this Sunday — Patriots' Day, as the occasion is now known — put out your flag, say a prayer for our nation, and find a way to give back as a tribute to those who gave all.

COMMENTARY

Welcoming new columnists, bidding others adieu

I hope all of you love reading the work of our contributing columnists as much as I do.

You've seen some different — but familiar — faces this summer as former contributors penned some guest columns to fill our annual summer break.

Now it's time to return to our regularly scheduled programming. And, as is the case every September, I must bid farewell to the writers who are moving off the rotation.

This year that is Bret Conway, Mistie Psaledas, Kelly Abate Kallas and student writer Isabella Terry. I enjoyed all of their work and am so grateful for their willingness to share their beautiful, touching, funny pieces with me.

I am happy to welcome back Bill Barre, John Bourjaily, Lisa Seplak and Lex Silberberg, all of whom began their two-year assignments one year ago.

Another former columnist, Denise Joyce, is returning to the fold this year. Joyce last was part of our columnist pool in 2015.

Joyce and her husband, Joe, have lived in Hinsdale since 1977 and raised a son and daughter here. She worked for the Trib for 38 years before leaving in 2012.

"I'm looking forward to another stint of writing columns because it's a regular push to expand my thinking out of its daily routine," she said. "Conversations and moments that give me pause will now linger with me: Is this something that has broader impact and can make someone's life better? Jade Cook said she used to write quite a bit and traces her love of writing back to her days as a young girl.

"It began before I can remember and may have had something to do with 'Harriet the Spy' and my subsequent collection of colorful notebooks as a young girl," she said.

She worked on the youth editorial staff of the Kalamazoo Gazette in Michigan before earning her bachelor's from the University of Missouri's School of Journalism. She's written for Fitness magazine in New York and then Chicago magazine after she followed her college boyfriend, now husband — to Chicago and his hometown of Hinsdale.

She is mom to a 12-year-old son and 9-year-old daughter. Since moving here, she's earned her master's degree in education, taught and worked part-time as the children's ministry director at Hinsdale Covenant Church.

"Truthfully, I've never written to hold a mirror up to my own life," she wrote. "All of my writing in the past was from a place of objectivity, so this would be a new experience for me. I'd like to give it a try."

Kevin Cook is a 25-year Hinsdale resident who said he loves a great written story.

"I grew up reading Mike Royko and many other columnists, always mesmerized by (and a bit jealous of) their writing gifts," said Cook, president of the Chicago office of a global public relations firm. "I tell stories for a living, but they are always someone else's stories. I now want to share some of my own. Stories I believe others will relate to and enjoy. Perhaps nod in agreement as they read or smile or snarl. As long as it resonates."

Cook grew up in LaGrange Park and graduated from LT before earning a degree from Purdue University-Northwest. He and his wife, Sherri, have three children, two at home and one a college grad out in the workforce.

I think you'll enjoy reading their first columns as much as I did.

New food column

When it comes to column writing, this is a good year to be a Cook. Or a cook.

I am so pleased to announce that Amy McCauley, a former contributing columnist herself, is joining the paper as its first food columnist. Her "Tales from the table" column will be part of the monthly rotation of columns in our Pulse section.

Amy is so enthusiastic that she said "Yes!" before I even had the chance to finish explaining what I hoped she would do.

Learn more about Amy and what she hopes to accomplish with her column in the first installment, which will appear in next week's paper. And then cook up some of her delicious Parmesan crusted chicken piccata.

Getting back in the saddle

Like many kids, I loved horses. They were my favorite thing to draw, my favorite thing to talk about and my favorite thing to collect — in My Little Pony form, of course. I would have owned 10 real ones if I had my way, but Santa always seemed to forget that item each and every year.

When I finally got the chance to horseback ride for real, I jumped — first up and down and shrieking at a pitch only my dog could hear and then at the opportunity itself. Clad in pigtails and my favorite equinethemed tee, I mounted up - and was promptly tossed off when the horse got spooked. I went home with my shirt splattered in blood and kicked my basket of ponies across the playroom as though accusing them of collusion. It took a good long while for me to ride again.

I'm not an equestrian by any stretch today so what does this tale have to do with anything? In short, everything.

Getting back in the saddle — either literal or figurative — is one of the most important things we can do. It's easy to give up when the going gets tough (or embarrassing or completely off the rails) but refusing to do so keeps us moving forward. Think back to the days of getting a less-than-fantastic grade on a test or not making a particular sports team. Did you just shrug and settle? No, you studied extra and practiced more so that next time, your outcome would be different and better.

And this cycle never ends. After a mostly go-withthe-flow summer, this past month has had me navigating a completely new morning routine of getting two kids ready, out the door and to different schools on time, not to mention the after-school transition (aka Lex's taxi service) into enrichment and sports. We're a few weeks in and though our system still has its kinks, we're getting to a spot that works for everyone, one forgotten water bottle and pair of mismatched socks at a time. We'll have it sorted by Spirit Week. I hope.

So next time you forget someone's name despite meeting them on four separate occasions, genuinely apologize and make a mnemonic for next time. If you mess up parallel parking downtown as a group of teenagers looks on, give it another go before circling the block. Yes, both situations are cringeworthy and you wish they never happened, but they did. All you can do now is dust yourself off, straighten your proverbial helmet and giddy up, partner.

Now if you'll excuse me, I'm off to the races: There's a pickup window I'm about to miss.

Pro Bono attorneys bring change and hope to their clients

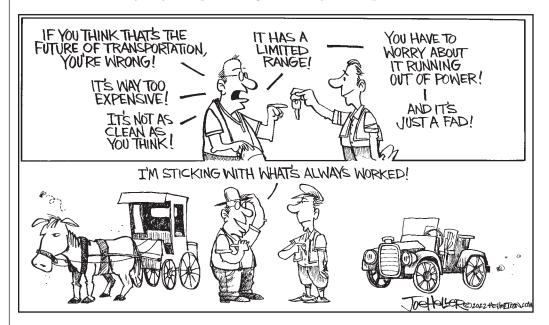

We see examples of it every day. Far too many vulnerable populations cannot afford access to basic rights and justice. Lowincome Americans cannot get legal help for 92% of their noncriminal legal problems, up from 86% in 2017.

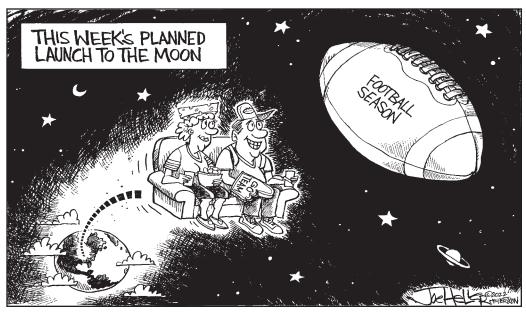

It's not surprising that seeing so many people denied their rights and justice brings a sense of powerlessness to many of us. But we have reason to be hopeful. A pro bono lawyer can make that access to justice possible, often bringing dramatic change to the lives of their clients and bringing them and all of us hope for the future.

The low-income clients we serve include families, seniors, veterans, those with disabilities, people who are or were incarcerated and others. They may be experiencing violence, trying to obtain disability benefits, seeking documented legal status or have housing problems.

Pro Bono Network trains and supports lawyers who want to be of service but have limited availability or opportunities to do so, including attorneys who are on career breaks, have retired or are solo practitioners. Over 425 PBN volunteer attorneys have provided 28,000 pro bono legal service hours, which equates to $7 million in legal services.

We invite interested attorneys to learn more about our work and our upcoming free CLE trainings by emailing sheila.pont@ pro-bono-network.org. — Heena Musabji, director of development and Kathy Hanley, development associate, Hinsdale

OBITUARIES

Linnea Davidson

Linnea Davidson, 87, a 60-year Hinsdale resident, passed away Aug. 26, 2022.

Linnea was born in Chicago in 1935 to Frank and Astrid Lenander. Her father was in the Navy and she grew up in Chicago, Mississippi and Upper Michigan. After graduating from high school, she received her RN degree from Northwestern University Wesley Memorial Hospital. She worked as a nurse until her children were born, then was a stay-at-home mom, but held several part time jobs as her children got older. She returned to nursing full time when her children entered high school. She worked as an industrial nurse at Reynolds Metals in McCook for over 20 years and then at US Smokeless Tobacco until her retirement.

Linnea was truly a selfless, loving, caring and compassionate person, which made her a wonderful mother, grandmother and nurse. She was a lifelong lover of animals, especially her cats. Linnea enjoyed collecting antiques, watching classic movies, traveling and spending time with her family and friends. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

She is survived by her children, Eric (Hanna) Davidson and Andrea (Michael) Maggio; her grandchildren, Rachel (Mitch) Miller and Emily (Gabe) Coppinger; and her brother, Jon (Gayle) Lenander.

Funeral services and interment will be private. Brian Powell Funeral Directors of Hinsdale handled the arrangements.

Barbara Ann Jones

Barbara Ann Sievers Jones, 87, of Hinsdale died Sept. 3, 2022, at AdventHealth Hinsdale Hospital

She was born in 1935 in Chicago, the eldest of seven children born to Fred and Lillie Sievers. She attended Calumet High School and graduated from Beloit College, where she was a proud Delta Gamma. While at Beloit she went on a blind date with Howard Jones. According to family lore, they only went out once as each claims that the other was "too wild" for them. They met again a few years later while standing up in the same wedding and sparks flew. They were engaged on July 4, 1959, in the backyard of their dear friends Pat and Don Hindman. They were married on April 23, 1960 and started a 62-year love affair.

Barbara taught third and fourth grades in Elmhurst before she and Howard welcomed two children — Karen and Scott — and Barbara became very active in her community. Through the years she served as the president of the Robert Crown Auxiliary and Hinsdale Assembly, member of the Hinsdale Hospital President's Circle, a long-time Board Member of King-Bruwaert House, a Wellness House Volunteer, The Community House Antique Show Committee, Village Associates, Collectors Club, Ladies Golf at the Hinsdale Golf Club and was very active at Hinsdale Covenant Church, serving in many roles.

Barbara and Howard were avid travelers and explored locations around the world, visiting five continents

Besides travel, she also loved to entertain and was always welcoming friends and family into her home here in Hinsdale and in Deer Valley.

She played tennis, golf and was an excellent bridge player. Her math skills made her a tough bridge opponent and kept her checkbook balanced to the penny. And as many Hinsdaleans know, she was Kramer's most loyal customer.

She is survived by her husband, Howard; her daughter, Karen (Matt) Fiascone; her son, Scott (Susie) Jones; and her grandchildren, Austin (fiancée Rachael), Regan, Meghan and Ryan.

A visitation will be held from 3 to 7 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 11, at Adolf Funeral Home, 7000 S. Madison St., Willowbrook.

Services will be at 11 a.m. Monday, Sept. 12, at Hinsdale Covenant Church, 412 S. Garfield St.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made online to the Hinsdale Hospital Foundation NICU Renovation Fund at https://www.adventhealth.com/foundation/adventhealth-foundation-great-lakes/adventhealth-foundation-great-lakes-hinsdale.

Brian Powell Funeral Directors of Hinsdale handled the arrangements.

Eileen O'Brien Wenstrup

Eileen O'Brien Wenstrup, 88, a longtime Hinsdale resident, passed away peacefully at home Sept. 2, 2022, surrounded by family.

She was born in 1934 in Cincinnati, Ohio, to late Patrick and Veronica O'Brien. She attended Ursuline Academy followed by Edgecliff College, graduating in 1956 with a degree in mathematics, summa cum laude.

Shortly after graduation, she married her eighthgrade sweetheart, H. Daniel Wenstrup, and one of the world's most epic love stories began. Their first stop was Ft. Bliss, Texas, for Dan's service in the Army followed by a transfer to a Nike Site in Southfield, Mich.. There they started their great masterpiece, their family. Dan's career brought them home to Cincinnati, back to the suburbs of Detroit and then finally to Hinsdale.

Eileen led with dignity, generosity and love. Her elegant style — whether at a grandchild's sporting event, a golf outing, a black-tie dinner or simply breakfast at home — was a hallmark, fortified by her love of shopping. But what lay just under the surface of her beautiful, polished exterior was her intelligence and her competitive streak.

Eileen was known as a formidable Bridge opponent, a Rummikub whiz and a Scrabble master. She enjoyed the game of golf but probably relished the post-golf social festivities, including planning and organizing them, most of all. To her family she was known as wife, mom, Mimi. Those are the only titles she ever sought, and she was one of the greatest of all time.

Eileen was preceded in death by her sister, Patricia Cunningham.

A funeral mass will take place at 10 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 10, at St. Isaac Jogues Parish, 412 S. Clay St., Hinsdale. The mass will be live streamed at https:// www.sij.net.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to Ursuline Academy, 5535 Pfeiffer Road, Cincinnati, OH, 45242.

Brian Powell Funeral Directors of Hinsdale handled the arrangements.

IT TAKES A VILLAGE

ANDRIANNA PETERSON, ASSISTANT VILLAGE MANAGER

From the time she was a kid, municipal government has interested Andrianna Peterson, Hinsdale's newly hired assistant village manager.

"My mother was an employee of the city of Woodstock, and so growing up she instilled a love of public service and always had very interesting stories about the types of work the city was doing for residents," Peterson said. "I just thought it was very interesting that people could come together and reach a consensus on a topic and actually evoke that action. Then you were able to see the results and the fruits of that process."

That interest led her to student public administration at Northern Illinois University, where she earned bachelor's and master's degrees, and to positions in Clarendon Hills, Berkeley and La Grange. She also worked for a time at the West Central Municipal Conference, a regional association of about 40 local governments.

Her most recent post in La Grange was as village manager, but she said this isn't the first time she has gone from being the chief administrator to an assistant. She did so when she left Berkeley to move to La Grange.

"It's really just what I feel is right at the time," she said. "This was a wonderful opportunity in a fantastic community."

"I think it's an opportunity for me to do a lot of the things that I have historically done in other communities," she added. "I really like the kind of rolling up my shirtsleeves aspect of the job, being able to work on special projects."

One of those projects will be helping to plan the village's 150th anniversary celebration in 2023. Peterson said she has been getting up to speed on the good planning that already has been done.

"It's very exciting. It's a great milestone for a community and a very exciting effort," she said.

Another area of focus for Peterson will be economic development. While La Grange has a busy road dissecting its central business district, she said the two villages' downtowns are similar.

"You have the train, it's highly walkable, a beautiful streetscape, a place that people want to be," she said.

In only her third week on the job, Peterson said has enjoyed getting to know her co-workers.

"I'm already just very impressed by all of Hinsdale's dedicated employees, and the pride they take in their work is reflective throughout the entire community," she said.

One of those co-workers is Brad Bloom, who will hold his assistant village manager title until he retires in February. Peterson said she is taking advantage of the opportunity to learn from him and tap into the knowledge he has accumulated after working in Hinsdale for decades.

"I think it works out well that we have this opportunity for me to learn from him over the next few months and absorb as much as I possibly can," Peterson said.

Peterson said she enjoys spending time with her family — husband Michael, a firefighter/paramedic and son Ian, a student at Purdue University. She also enjoys outdoor activities like hiking and boating and camping.

Peterson said she finds working in local government extremely rewarding because of the direct ability she has to affect residents' lives.

"I've found it to be a very fulfilling and humbling job and an important one," she said. "I've enjoyed it. I enjoy the profession immensely."

Andrianna Peterson enjoys the fact that every day is different for an assistant village manager. "You get to provide a lot support to staff and the village manager and board to further the strategic objectives of the community." (Jim Slonoff photo)

IN FOCUS

Scout leads team through Ehret Park garden facelift, gazebo restoration

Hinsdale's Brian Williams' Eagle Scout project was to replace the roof, fix broken and rotten wood and paint the gazebo in Ehret Park. And to give the butterfly garden in the park some much-needed care. The garden was originally designed and installed by a local Girl Scout troop in 2003. From writing a proposal to fundraising to assembling a team of volunteers to doing some of the work himself, Williams spent most of his summer accomplishing his goal. He leaned on his grandfather, John Humm, for advice and technical support, as the work progressed over the hotter parts of summer break. His grandmother as well as his parents also were instrumental in helping, along with a team of more the 30 people recruited for the project. In the garden, crews removed the invasive weeds that had threatened the original plantings. Ernest Zhang, Williams and Josh Krames add mulch provided by the village in the garden. While Williams and his grandfather attach new shingles, Chase Coghill does some shingle cutting. In addition to all the volunteers Williams recruited, neighbors pitched in and also provided snacks to the team. Williams is a member of Hinsdale's Boy Scout Troop 52. (Jim Slonoff photos)

How 'bout dem apples?

Fill up on the season's abundant fruit fresh — straight from the trees

September is prime apple-picking season, and Hinsdaleans willing to drive about an hour or so can find some great spots for this family friendly activity. Here are a few to, well, pick from.

Kuipers Family Farm

Pick your own apples at this Maple Park orchard through October, or purchase them fresh from the orchard at the Orchard Shop by the half-peck or peck bag.

Gala, Golden Supreme and Jonathan varieties are ripe for picking now, with more than 20 more types expected to be ready soon. A presentation on properly picking apples is provided to guests, and staff at the Apple Bar can offer samples and make suggestions to help you purchase the best variety for your taste and use.

The Orchard Bakery sells apple cider doughnuts, home-baked pies, cream and butter fudge, and apple cider. And watch a caramel apple hand spun just for you. Food trucks and other concessions are available select weekends.

Hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sundays; apple picking may be available weekdays depending on the crop.

Admission is $10.99 per person online, $12.99 at the gate, and includes a quarter-peck bag of apples. Children age 2 and younger are admitted free but don't receive a bag.

In addition, starting Sept. 17 the pumpkin farm across the street will welcome families to enjoy rides and activities for a separate admission fee.

The orchard is located at 1N313 Watson Road, Maple Park, about 44 miles from Hinsdale. Visit https://www.kui-persfamilyfarm.com or call the apple info hot line at (815) 827-5200, Ext. 1, to hear apple varieties available in the orchards and in the shop.

County Line Orchard

More than 10,000 trees and over 30 varieties of u-pick apples are available at this 40-acre orchard in Hobart, Ind.

Varieties typically available in mid-September include Cortland, Grimes Golden, Honeycrisp, McIntosh and Wolf River. The bakery sells doughnuts, pies, breads, fudge and cookies, with gourmet foods available at the gift shop.

Food is available at the Orchard Kitchen and the Country Grill as well as food trucks on site. Enjoy live music between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. every Saturday and Sunday.

U-pick hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily through Oct. 30.

General admission is $2, and u-pick apples are $2 a pound. Get access to additional Big Barn activities, including the kids farm, maze, Moo-Choo Train, tractor rides and picnic area, with passes ranging from $6 to $12.

The orchard is located at 200 S. County Line Road in Hobart, about 52 miles from Hinsdale.

Visit https://www.countylineorchard.com.

All Seasons Orchard

Head to Woodstock for apple picking through Oct. 30.

Apples that should be ready for picking mid-September are Honeycrisp, Cortland, Liberty and Golden Delicious.

The cost is $17 per person and includes a halfpeck bag of apples (up to 6 pounds). Children 12 and younger are admitted for $11, which includes a quarter-peck bag. Honeycrisp prices are $20 for adults, $15 for children.

The bakery, Cider Mill and Farm Market sell apples in half-peck and one peck quantities, along with caramel made from scratch, apple pies, apple butter, honey and kettle corn. Food also can be purchased at the Country Concession and Country Kitchen.

Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekends and Columbus Day. The last entry to the orchard is 60 minutes prior to closing.

Barnyard activities such as the corn maze, giant swings, pedal karts and more are available for a separate admission fee.

The orchard is at 14510 Route 176 in Woodstock, about 55 miles from Hinsdale.

For more information visit https://www.allseasonsorchard.com.

Jonamac Orchard

Jonamac offers apple picking seven days a week through late October at its site in Malta.

The orchard features 20 acres of u-pick trees and 40 different varieties. Gala, Jonamac and Jonathan apples currently are available for picking and for sale, with other varieties expected to be ready mid-September.

The Country Store
Bakery sells apple doughnuts, breads, pies, caramel apples, apple pizzas, fudge and apple butter. Cider House is home to the orchard's cider pressing operation and tasting room for its apple wines and hard ciders.

Food trucks will be on site weekends starting Sept. 9, and Kettle Barn Concessions is the place for kettle corn, donut sundaes, slushies and ice cream. A corn maze and barnyard activities are available for additional fees.

Apple picking is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Strollers and wagons are permitted in the orchard to make it easier for little ones; wagons are available on site.

Pick-your-own prices are $15 for a half-peck bag (about 5 1/2 apounds) plus the cost of apple picking bags. Weekdays, excluding holidays, admission to the orchard is free after purchasing a bag; on weekends and holidays, guests must also buy a general admission wristband for $7 to enter the orchard.

The orchard is at 19412 Shabbona Road in Malta, about 58 miles from Hinsdale.

To the Electors of the State of Illinois:

The Illinois Constitution establishes a structure of government and laws for the State of Illinois. There are three ways to initiate change to the Illinois Constitution: (1) a constitutional convention may propose changes to any part; (2) the General Assembly may propose changes to any part; or (3) a petition initiative may propose amendments limited to structural and procedural subjects contained in the Legislative Article. The people of Illinois must approve any changes to the Illinois Constitution before they become effective. The purpose of this document is to inform you of proposed changes to the Illinois Constitution and to provide you with a brief explanation and a summary of the arguments in favor of and in opposition to the proposed amendment.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ADD SECTION 25 TO ARTICLE I OF THE ILLINOIS CONSTITUTION ARTICLE I — BILL OF RIGHTS

SECTION 25. WORKERS' RIGHTS

(a) Employees shall have the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing for the purpose of negotiating wages, hours, and working conditions, and to protect their economic welfare and safety at work. No law shall be passed that interferes with, negates, or diminishes the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively over their wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment and work place safety, including any law or ordinance that prohibits the execution or application of agreements between employers and labor organizations that represent employees requiring membership in an organization as a condition of employment.

(b) The provisions of this Section are controlling over those of Section 6 of Article VII.

EXPLANATION

The proposed amendment, which takes effect upon approval by the voters, adds Section 25 to the Bill of Rights Article of the Illinois Constitution. The new section will guarantee workers the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively and to negotiate safety conditions, wages, hours, working conditions, and economic welfare. The amendment prohibits the passage of any new law within the State that restricts or prohibits workers from engaging in collective bargaining with their employer over wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment, like safety protocols or training.

Arguments In Favor of the Proposed Amendment

This amendment will protect workers' and others' safety. That includes guaranteeing nurses' right to put patient care ahead of profit and making sure construction workers can speak up when there's a safety issue. It will protect workers from being silenced when they call attention to food safety threats, shoddy construction, and other problems that could harm Illinoisans. This amendment protects firefighters and EMTs who put their lives on the line to protect Illinoisans. It means they get the training and safety equipment they need to do their jobs, and can speak out when they see a problem without fear of retaliation. This amendment will help our economy by putting more money in workers' pockets who join together and get raises. That will mean more money going into our communities and small businesses as people join the middle class with good-paying jobs.

Arguments Against the Proposed Amendment

A fundamental right provided to all citizens under the First Amendment of the United States Constitution is the right to free speech and freedom of association. This amendment prohibits any law or ordinance that allows union workers to choose whether they wish to be a member of the union or not. Under the 2018 United States Supreme Court decision Janus v. Illinois AFSCME, non-union government workers cannot be required to pay union dues as a condition of working in the public sector. Approval of this constitutional amendment will deny that protection to private sector workers. The amendment also states that lawmakers could never "interfere with, negate, or diminish" certain rights. These terms are broad and undefined and leave lawmakers without the ability to clarify through legislation. Our Illinois Constitution provides such protection to public employees. The result of that protection has been to squash efforts by state lawmakers and voters to address Illinois' pension fund deficits.

FORM OF BALLOT

Proposed Amendment to the 1970 Illinois Constitution

Explanation of Amendment

The proposed amendment would add a new section to the Bill of Rights Article of the Illinois Constitution that would guarantee workers the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively and to negotiate wages, hours, and working conditions, and to promote their economic welfare and safety at work. The new amendment would also prohibit from being passed any new law that interferes with, negates, or diminishes the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively over their wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment and workplace safety. At the general election to be held on November 8, 2022, you will be called upon to decide whether the proposed amendment should become part of the Illinois Constitution.

YES

NO

Wellness House ball goes 'All In' for cancer support

With the power of three, the Wellness House hopes to better reach those living with cancer, far and near.

There are now three ways people can connect with Wellness House. Anyone can choose to participate in the more than 500 free-of-charge programs made available in person and any time online. And now through a generous donation, there is a new hybrid option.

"It's really amazing because as we evolved our programming during the pandemic, we have increased our accessibility," said Debra Kwiatt, marketing communications manager for Wellness House. "Anyone can choose how to participate in our free programming. (The new hybrid option) is a really meaningful way to join in-person programming, by dialing in and participating virtually through a new Bose system."

It's no secret that for more than 30 years, the Hinsdale nonprofit has gone all in to help those living with cancer and their families. With that in mind, this year's annual fundraising ball, with proceeds accounting for roughly 20 percent of the nonprofit's annual budget, will follow that dedicated mindset.

More than 500 people are expected to attend the Wellness House's "All In" event Saturday, Oct. 15. After two years of virtual or limited-capacity events due to the pandemic, organizers are anxious to return to a downtown ballroom. The event planning once again will be led by renowned Kristina Taheri Special Events.

Kwiatt added that the ball's theme speaks to a number of factors. The community, participants, staff and board are "all in" to deliver accessible and equitable cancer support.

Event Co-chairs Lauren and Matt Houder and Dottie and Todd Martin are planning a memorable evening that will honor and support those affected by cancer. A unique story telling portion of the event promises to be a compelling call to action, told by breast cancer survivors.

Alexis BradenSociety spotlight

"Todd and I are honored to represent and give back to Wellness at this year's gala," Dottie Martin said. "It's really exciting, especially post-pandemic, to be able to gather in one room and make an impact on a disease that in some way has touched us all. Sadly, my own dad lost his battle to brain cancer very quickly and I only wish that I was aware that such a caring and supportive center existed in our community."

The black-tie gala will take place at the Four Seasons Chicago from 6 p.m. until midnight. Tickets are $500 per person. For more information or to purchase tickets, visit https://www.wellnesshouse.org/ball-2022.

Humane society brings color

The Hinsdale Humane Society's

Junior Board is hosting a colorful bash to bid adieu to the summer on Saturday, Sept. 10.

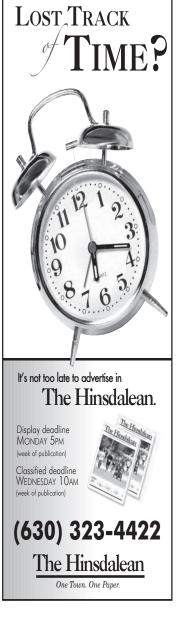

Children of all ages, and their families, are asked to wear white clothes for the event's water balloon toss, which will feature balloons filled with water colored with food-dye. Games will be divided into various age groups and prizes will be awarded.

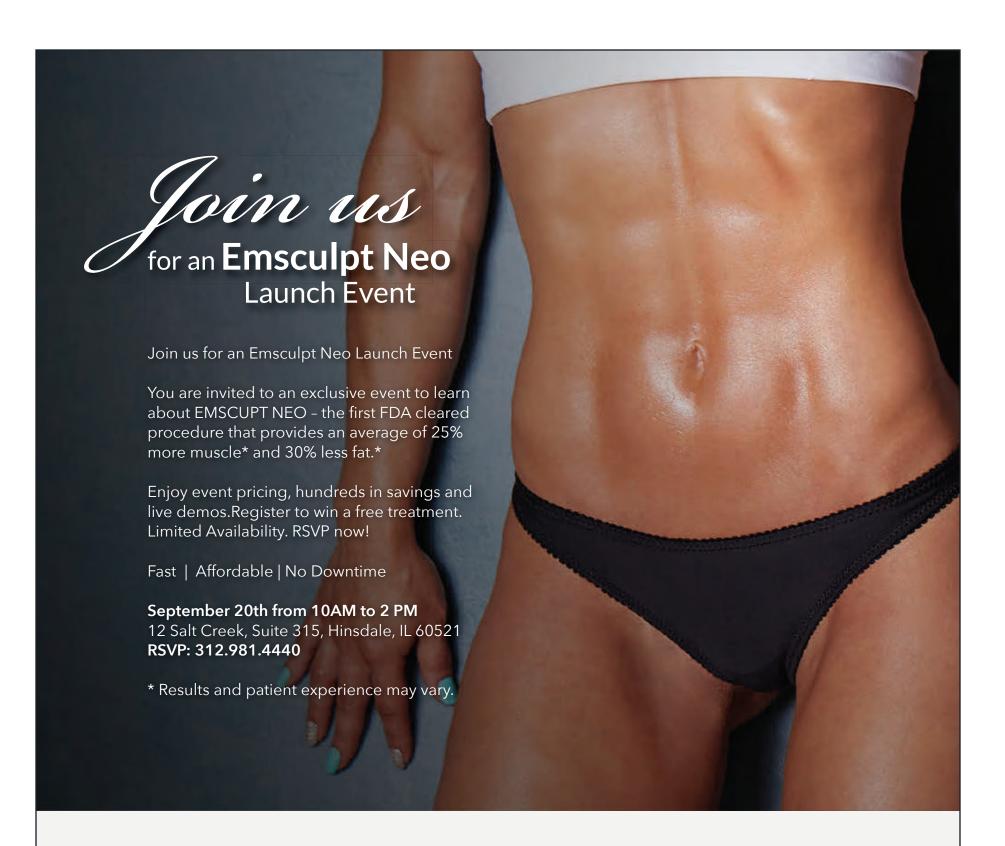

Guests also will enjoy a bake sale, lemonade/sweet tea stand, face painting, chalk drawing, raffles and more. All proceeds will help support the society's feline and canine residents.

The event will take place from 1 to 4 p.m. at the society's head-quarters at 21 Salt Creek Lane. To purchase tickets, which are $10 for adults and $5 for children 13 years and younger, please visit https://www.hinsdalehumanesociety.org/events/back-to-school-bash.

CD values are subject to interest rate risk such that when interest rates rise, the prices of CDs can decrease. If CDs are sold prior to maturity, the investor can lose principal value. FDIC insurance does not cover losses in market value. Early withdrawal may not be permitted. Yields quoted are net of all commissions. CDs require the distribution of interest and do not allow interest to compound. CDs offered through Edward Jones are issued by banks and thrifts nationwide. All CDs sold by Edward Jones are registered with the Depository Trust Corp. (DTC).

Prayer for peace in our country

Lord God, heavenly Father, You are the very God of peace. Abate the pride, check the malice and confound the devices of all who are not lovers of peace. Arise and, with Your good right hand, help all the oppressed and miserable of the earth. Grant grace, that the dissensions and bitterness that now prevail may finally be put aside; and set thereon the seal of permanence and of blessing, that Your Word may have free course everywhere and that the vineyard which You have planted among the nations may flourish. Give peace in our time,

O God; through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Amen.

Ann has closed over $70 million in career sales with a sold price to list price ratio of 104% in 2022

Specializing in Burr Ridge, Hinsdale, Western Springs & La Grange

"We were very pleased with Ann's handling of the sale of our long-time home. She skillfully and tactfully guided us through the challenging process of preparing and staging our house to appeal to a broad audience. She brought in a talented staging team and top-notch photographer, whose efforts landed our house in the Chicago Tribune as a Dream House of the Week. Her thorough analysis of the local market led us to what we feel was a good listing price, which fortunately resulted in a quick and successful sale..."

ANN P., SOLD IN WESTERN SPRINGS

"Ann is a very sincere, helpful and intuitive real estate associate. She understood what we were looking for and assisted us in finding a home which was right for us. She went out of her way to help us to prepare and sell our home. She brought in associates for advice along the way. She planned photography and advertisements for our home that reflected on its strengths. She sold our home in seven days. She did not stop there. She referred us to helpful tradespersons and professional persons that we needed. We thought she did an excellent job for us."

course, but maybe really focusing on playing at a very high level in the state playoffs, if we're fortunate enough to get downstate.

Furthermore: It's an interesting season getting (classes) started this late. We're in our fourth week of practice. It's been a different start of the season not being in school.

Girls tennis

First meet: Aug. 27 @ Hinsdale South Quad (V undefeated)

Last year: 1st in state Head coach: Shawna Zsinko Seasons as head coach: six

No. team members: 22

Strengths: This is probably the biggest senior class we've had in a long time and also (we have) quite a bit of freshmen on varsity. I feel like it's a good balance of leaders and also newbies trying to learn the ropes. I have like eight captains because there are eight seniors.

Challenges: I think internally probably just keeping everyone healthy. We always have random things that happen. Knock on wood — hopefully that is not an issue. Externally there are just some loaded teams. I would say the big three for competition are New Trier, Lake Forest and Stevenson.

Who to watch: Sophia Kim. I could put her in singles or I could put her in doubles. She got second place in doubles last year, barely missed (first). I probably have to figure out do we try to get the win at doubles and then who is going to be her partner. The other two returners from last year's state lineup are Bridget Novatney and Nicole Hu. I've got a host of other people that are trying to be the next three spots.

Goal: Obviously our goals are to win sectionals, win conference, win state. The last one is going to be tough. I can't tell you what my lineup is going to be. I'm going to have to figure out how we can get that done or get the closest.

Furthermore: The parents have been awesome this year. The team is really doing a lot of team bonding activities and trying to be super-inclusive and create that team atmosphere. You don't really get that with tennis. I think it's appreciated by everyone.

MCCLEAR FINDS WINNING STROKE

Hinsdale's Mac McClear won the Illinois State Amateur in July, carding a 5-under-par score of 283 over four rounds at Westmoreland Country Club in Wilmette. McClear, a University of Iowa senior and two-time All-Big Ten honoree, avenged his loss in last year's tournament in a three-way playoff.

McClear had a busy summer, including reaching the final U.S. Open qualifying event in June in Springfield, Ohio, and competing in the U.S. Amateur Championship last month at the Ridgewood Country Club in Paramus, N.J. He earned PING All-Midwest honors at Iowa his junior year for the second consecutive year after leading the Hawkeyes with four top-10 finishes and a 72.2 stroke average. As a sophomore McClear first at the 2021 Big Ten Men's Golf Championship.

GUTMAN KICKS IT IN FOR ATLANTA

While primarily a defender, Hinsdale native Andrew Gutman has been making an impact on the offensive end for Atlanta United of Major League Soccer of late.

The Five Stripes' starting left back scored all three of his goals this season in a span of six games last month. His first goal Aug. 6 was the game-winner against the visiting Seattle Sounders as he unleashed a strike from 25 yards out in stoppage time to seal the 2-1 victory. The feat earned him MLS Team of the Week honors. His second came in the very next game against Cincinnati in a 2-2 result — a goal that was also recognized as the 20,000th goal scored in MLS history.

SPORTS - FALCONS

9U SILVER WINS FIRST HOME GAME

Under threatening skies, the young Falcons took the field for their first home game. Their opponent, the undefeated Downers Grove Panthers. Coach Mike Garber lead the pregame chant of "First play, every day, all day," and — to the surprise of many — they seemed to listen.

Billy Jaqua took the ball on the first play from scrimmage and scampered 60 yards. Four plays later Teddy Ouimette scooted around end for his first career touchdown. The drive featured excellent blocking by AJ Siepker, Luke Hansen, Harrison Kuzniar, Alex Demetis, Dario Rendina and Grant Garber. A failed PAT left the score Falcons 6, Panthers 0.

The story of the game was the Falcon defense. The Panthers mounted a furious comeback attempt. A Jaqua interception ended one threat. In the second half a fumble caused by Jacob Stanton and recovered by JP Rago thwarted another drive.

The pass defense excelled with great coverage and tackling by Max Breton, Mas Buttitta, Carter Pearson and Cooper Milburn. Time and time again the Panthers were turned away by a relentless pass rush led by Keegan McCoskey, Rocco Mateja, John Dunn, Will Jones and Jasper Maggio. Nate Morris slammed shut any hopes of a comeback with an interception on the last play of the game, sealing a 6-0 victory.

The young Falcons reflected on their first victory over Labor Day weekend, with an understanding there is work to be done, but all agree this is a labor of love.

9U GOLD SHUTS OUT PALATINE

Coach Nate Brown's 9U Gold team took the field at Hinsdale Central Sunday, playing in adverse conditions for the first time. The team was ready, executing with the discipline and focus of a much older squad. When the skies opened and unleashed a heavy downpour, the Falcons matched the storm's intensity to beat Palatine 26-0 and move to 2-0 on the season.

After playing shorthanded last week, the team had most of its players for the first time and flashed the full potential for the team. The defense led the way by pitching a shutout, with Christian Kirchev wreaking havoc all day alongside Joey Hillegass, Sebastian Christianson and Lucasz Gewont on the front line. The linebacking crew of Marcello Salamone, Luke Gray, Marco Oliverio and Kellen Brown made tackle after tackle, and defensive backs Ben Murphy, Reid Jacobsen, Lucas Zayed and Carson Malinas snuffed out every potential big play that made it their way.

The offense, led by Soren Carlson at quarterback, scored at will. The offensive line controlled the game with Nico Will, Ivan Burt and Carter Cox joining others to lead the way. Behind the powerful O-line, the thunder and lightning combination from the Falcons running backs was too much for the defense. Topher Allanson used his speed and moves to break two long touchdown runs to start the scoring and was quickly followed by two long, powerful "ham-mer runs" for touchdowns from Brown and Nate Thangamani.

The team travels for its first away game this weekend to Arlington Heights.

10U SILVER WINS TIGHT CONTEST

The Falcons came into the Sunday Showdown at Dickenson Field knowing that it was going to be a tough battle against the Bartlett Raiders.

Starting out on defense, the Falcons put the Raiders on notice with a quick three and out led by Shane Behar, Faiz Moosani and Lucas Herrick shutting down all attempts to run on the outside and putting heavy pressure on the Raiders' quarterback every time he tried to pass.

The defense didn't let up all game as they were consistently applying pressure from everywhere, with strong performances by Bennet "Baby Hulk" Zeikus, Maximus Hull, Luke "Leebo" Lieberenz and Giancarlo Turano playing shut down corner.

On offense, the Falcons were led by Brady Madden at quarterback as he spread the ball around to his receivers, including Lucas Spatara going up and "Mossing" the Raiders defenders for a 25-yard gain. The running attack was stellar, racking up over 150 yards on the ground led by Gavin Shuler, Jaxon Uthe and Nick Carbonara. The Raiders' defense was effective at keeping the Falcons out of the endzone until Jaxon Uthe took the Jet Sweep outside and stiff armed his way to the endzone.

The offensive line continues to be the power of this dynamic offense, led by Alex Vivanco, Jackson Rettiger, Ryan Swieten and Rayan Sheikh.

The Raiders tried one last push in the end of the fourth quarter, but their hopes were squashed by timely tackling and a game ending interception by Ryan Pieczkowski.

The 2-0 Falcons are back at Dickenson Field at 10 a.m. Sunday to face Lemont.

13U SILVER FALLS TO TOUGH OPPONENT

The Hinsdale Falcons 13U Silver lost a tough game on Sunday against the Naperville Saints, 36-0.

The first half started out strong with Michael Dunford running for 4 yards off a quarterback handoff from Alex Sclabassi. The Falcons' defensive line of Isaiah Shin, Auden Bunnow, James Frankel, Evan Zydek, Max Penaloza, Alex Mattson, Francesco Rendina and Jack Sefton had its hands full against a strong Naperville running game. Highlights include Evan Zydek with two explosive quarterback sacks, resulting in a Naperville loss of 6 yards. Drew Wyant intercepted a 10-yard pass, helping re-position the Falcons. Liam Allen stripped the ball from the Naperville quarterback in the second quarter for a Naperville turnover. Alex Tafoya showcased the Falcons' talent with a personal game-high of five tackles.

The Falcons' offensive line of Jack Grosek, Lias Katz, Max Penaloza, James Frankel, Liam Gillmore, Alex Mattson and Auden Bunnow show great potential working on their blocking. Andrew Nield had a 25-yard reception from quarterback Alex Sclabassi in the final seconds. Although they are still getting their footing, this motivated team is gaining traction and developing week over week. Hinsdale looks to get back on track at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 11, at Hinsdale Central against Downers Grove.

VARSITY RED COMES THROUGH ON 'D'

Football is game of offense, defense and special teams and it would be defense and special Teams that would give the kids from Hinsdale the boost they needed. Defensive end Tommy Riordan chased down the Lemont quarterback in the end zone after the snap flew over his head for a sack, a safety and the first score of the game. A muffed punt gave the ball to Hinsdale at the Lemont 2-vardline. Owen Sunderson would score on the next play as he carried would-be tacklers off the right side into the endzone for the Falcons' first touchdown of the day. Luke Zajicek, Riordan and John Breton all made key blocks on the play. A successful PAT try would make the score 9-0 going into the half.

With the passing game struggling to click, Sunderson would do the work with his feet to start the second half. The Falcons' quarterback would take it off the left side 52 yards to paydirt early in the third quarter. They would score one more time after Sunderson found Luke McLaughlin for a 27-yard completion that took the ball down to the 2-yard line. Sunderson would punch it in himself for his third touchdown of the day. Sunderson and Cam Linn led the Falcons' rushing attack on the day helped by blocking from Michael Sharples, Jimmy Satchwell and Zaher Akbar.

The Falcons defense played tough and would let up only one score on the day. The defensive line led by Mutaz Alshahrour, Amaan Moosani and Johnathon Fausto were run stoppers all day. The Hinsdale D closed the game with an interception from corner back Beau Knapp, which was his second interception of the game. Final score 21-6.

VARSITY GOLD HAS IMPRESSIVE WIN

It was another impressive win for the Hinsdale Gold division one Falcons on Sunday at Palatine's Ost Field.

Brian O'Malley's quick screen pass to Charles Calhoun opened up the scoring in the first quarter with another 2-point PAT by Orestas Bockus to make it 8-0.

Palatine kept it close until early in the third-quarter when they made a decision on fourth and 20 to punt to Calhoun. He easily took it back to the house, making the score 16-0 in the third quarter.

The defense continued its dominance by posting another shut out, leading to a 32-0 win! The Falcons' offensive line and defensive line were unstoppable forces in this game. Michael Panzica, Max Judge, Andrew Zeiss, Matthew Tomfohrde, Don Mershon and Jake Chao Sun all played extremely well on both lines.

Next up — a revenge game versus TriCity at Mooseheart stadium.

STUDENT ATHLETE PROFILE

Kyle Doorhy Senior Westmont

What got you hooked on cross country?

My older brother Ryan ran and we'd always go to his meets when I was a kid. I thought, "I can run and be successful as well."

What do you love about the sport?

I really like the team aspect and running with the same people everyday and developing close bonds with my teammates.

How does the sport challenge you?

It's definitely one of the most mentally demanding sports, in my opinion. It's more of a fight against yourself than against anyone else.

Did you play other sports growing up?

I played basketball and soccer.

How would your teammates describe you?

Definitely a little brash at times and someone who can be demanding.

How do you prepare before a meet?

I like to go the golfing range the night before and hit some golf balls just to clear my head.

What's your goal for the season?

I want to score for the team in every race and make it to (Nike Cross) Nationals. It's cool because it's all expenses paid. The last time Hinsdale Central went we came in last (2013).

What was the best thing you did this summer?

Probably going on our team bonding trip to Kenosha. It was a great three days just to get away and be together.

What would people be surprised to know about you?

I love Legos. I'm running out of space to the display them because the basement's full and my room's full.

Do you have any other siblings?

I also have a twin brother, Aaron. We're fraternal but when we were younger our teachers would always get us mixed up.

What might you be doing 10 years from now?

Probably designing something, whether it be in engineering or computer science.

Why does coach Jim Westphal like having Doorhy on the squad?

Kyle possesses a great work ethic and is one of the leaders in our program this season. Kyle always has a great attitude, is upbeat and positive. His energy is infectious and has been a real key in our program's culture.

Coaches hope for postseason peak

Boys and girls golf, girls tennis teams working to play best when it matters most

By Pamela Lannom plannom@thehinsdalean.com

The varsity boys and girls golf and girls tennis coaches say their teams all bring some combination of talent, depth and experience to this season's competitions. They talk about their athletes and their hopes for the post-season in this, the second fall sports preview. The first installment ran Sept. 1 and the final article in the series will run Sept. 15.

First meet: Aug. 11 @ Prep Tour Invite (V placed 1st)

Last year: 3rd in state
Head coach: Serge Penksik
Seasons as head coach: first (coached JV for five years here and five years at Lake Zurich)

No. team members: 14
Strengths: I think our strength right now is our depth. We have 14 guys. Some can shoot really low, some can shoot low rounds. They are very committed to golf. They all play tournaments outside of the golf season. They realize that we have a good number of students that can, on any day, put a good score up there.

Challenges: I think our challenges are similar to other schools. It's just dealing with pressure of the moment on the course. I don't think anybody is immune from that, regardless of how good the players are. That's something that we talk as a team about, how to overcome this pressure, how to cope with this pressure, especially in very meaningful tournaments, especially if it's postseason. It's figuring out how to find experience mimicking that type of pressure. We do a lot of competitive practice rounds. We try to maximize our tournaments to get ready for those competitive, pressured situations.

Who to watch: We definitely have our No. 1, Emil Riegger. He has committed to Drake and he has been playing outstanding so far. Up to date he's only carded one over par round in our competitions. He has been very, very stellar. Aside from that, we have Jack Mulligan. He went down to state last year as a sophomore, now he's a junior. We have a couple of sophomores that are up and coming. Emil is very clearly No. 1. The rest of the team is very, very in the mix of mid-70s rounds. I think time will tell who is going to be playing well when it's time to go postseason. It's hard to predict.

The Red Devil boys and girls golf teams and girls tennis teams all finished in the top five at state last year and hope to try for a state title again this year. (file photos)

Season goal: My goal for the team was to find a way to play our best golf at the right time, to focus on the right things — to focus on the things we are able to control and not to be bothered by the things we are not able to control. The game of golf throws many uncontrollable things. They are all capable of playing good golf, it's just finding a way to do that at the right time. Golf is unpredictable and how you cope with challenges out there in essence determines how well you play. I think our potential is high and I think finding the right approach to realize it is what we're trying to focus on.

Furthermore: It's a tightly knit group. It's a really fun group of kids. It's a group of kids I enjoy being around. They are competitive. They are supportive of one another. It's a positive environment on the team while keeping it competitive. The internal dynamics are important, and I think we have the right mixture of intensity and fun at the same time.

Girls qolf

First meet: Aug. 12 @ Prep Tour Invite (V finished third)

Last year: 4th in state
Head coach: Nick Latorre
Seasons as head coach: 10th
No. team members: 15

Strengths: We are very talented. Our top four all competed downstate last year, so we have some experience. We've got some girls that work exceptionally hard at their game and have great potential to put some low scores up there. We're young but we're experienced.

Challenges: I think that the level of play in girls golf amongst probably the top five or 10 school has improved markedly over the past four or five years. When I started coaching, then to now, there are just more good players. We had won almost every invite last year. When we got down to state, the teams at the top just played so well. There is so much more talent. You have to play at the top of your game all the time. There are five schools that could win state. It kind of comes down to those who are playing the best at the right time.

Who to watch: We have a freshman, Lilly Riegger, who has played really well so far this year. She's Emil's (No. 1 boys player) younger sister. She's got great potential. It will be interesting to see how her season goes. Of our returning players from last year, Sarah Thornton is now a senior and has really grown as a leader. Elyssa Abdullah finished fourth individually last year. She was our top player all of last year and so far is our top player this year. Caroline Owens has been tremendous for us. Toral Bhatt has been really good last year and really good this year. There are a lot of really solid, sound players in our program right now.

Season goal: The goal for us this year is to be playing our best in the state playoffs. We want to emphasize playing well in all of the events, of
